ARTIST BIO

EBM350 is an independent artist, entertainer and entrepreneur from the South Side of Chicago. Known as "Mr. Opp or Fan," he has built his music and content career without a label machine or major financial backing. Every song, feature, video and creative move has been financed independently, turning persistence and self-belief into the foundation of the EBM350 movement.

His catalog blends Chicago energy, personal experiences, ambition and personality. Beyond music, EBM350 has expanded into comedy/skit content, acting and the Opp or Fan brand, creating a connected entertainment world around his music rather than treating each release as a standalone moment.

"I did everything on my own financially - every song, every feature, every video.
Independently, with no power behind me."
